23. Where the employer has been accustomed to pay to the workman a sum to cover any special expenses entailed on him by the nature of his employment, the sum so paid shall not be reckoned as part of the earnings.

24. When a workman is at the time of the accident under the age of twenty-one years, or is an indentured apprentice, or an apprentice or improver under an award, determination, or industrial agreement, and his incapacity, whether total or partial, is permanent his average weekly earnings at the time of the accident shall be deemed to be the weekly sum which he would probably have been able to earn if he had then attained the age of twenty-one years, or had completed his apprenticeship, or had ceased to be an improver, as the case may be, being in no case less than three pounds per week; and the difference between the amount of the average weekly earnings of the workman before the accident and the average weekly amount which he is earning or able to earn in some suitable employment or business after the accident, shall be deemed to be the difference between the weekly sum aforesaid and the amount which the workman will probably be able to earn after attaining the age of twenty-one years, or after the expiration of the time when the apprenticeship would in the ordinary course of events have come to an end, or the workman would have ceased to be an improver, as the case may be.

 Cf. U.K. 15 & 16, Geo. 5, c. 84, s. 14.

29. (1) Proceedings for the recovery under this Act of compensation for any injury shall not be maintainable unless notice of the accident has been given as soon as practicable after the happening thereof:

Provided that the want of or any defect or inaccuracy in such notice shall not be a bar to the maintenance of such proceedings if it is adjudged in the proceedings for settling the claim that the employer is not, or would not, if a notice or an amended notice were then given and the hearing postponed, be prejudiced in his defence by the want, defect, or inaccuracy, or that such want, defect, or inaccuracy was occasioned by mistake, absence from the State of South Australia, or other reasonable cause.

Where the appellant workman was totally incapacitated by accident from work for intermittent periods and wholly incapacitated from a limited class of work and, during the intermittent periods, no one of which was for more than six months, he was paid half his average weekly earnings, and during the other periods he was employed by the respondent at work of various kinds, and where, after two years after the accident and whilst the workman was still in the employ of the respondent, the respondent applied for redemption of the weekly payments, held—(a) that there had not been in fact continuous weekly payments for six months and accordingly there was not, in the circumstances, any jurisdiction to order redemption; and (b) in the circumstances, that there was no absolute right to redemption and the arbitrator had properly refused to order redemption.

S. 29. CARSWELL V. JANNSEN (1912) S.A.L.R. 217. Where the injured workman failed to give notice as required by the section until after he had left the employer's service because he did not discover until after his employment ended that his injury was serious, held that the failure was an excusable mistake.

NELSON V. BANKIE (1924) S.A.S.R. 370. Where failure to give notice was due to mistake on the part of the workman as to the person liable, held that the omission was excused by the proviso to paragraph (1).

(2) Notice in respect of an injury under this Act shall give the name and address of the person injured, and shall state in ordinary language the cause of the injury and the date and place at which the accident happened, and shall be served on the employer, or if there is more than one employer, upon one of such employers.

(3) The notice may be served by delivering the same at, or sending it by post in a registered letter addressed to, the residence or place of business of the person on whom it is to be served.

(4) Where the employer is a body of persons, corporate or unincorporate, the notice may also be served by delivering the same at, or by sending it by post in a registered letter addressed to, the employer at the office, or if there is more than one office, any one of the offices of such body.

(5) Where the employer is the Crown, notice shall be served on the Crown Solicitor, at Adelaide, or the manager of the work upon which the workman was employed at the time of the accident.

30. Proceedings for the recovery under this Act of compensation for any injury shall not be maintained unless the claim for compensation with respect to such accident has been made within six months from the occurrence of the accident causing the injury, or in the case of death, within six months from the time of death: Provided that the failure to make a claim within the period above specified shall not be a bar to the maintenance of such proceedings if it is found that the failure was occasioned by mistake, absence from the State of South Australia, or other reasonable cause.

(2) The medical referee to whom the matter is so referred, shall, in accordance with regulations made by the Governor, give a certificate as to the condition of the workman and his fitness for employment specifying, where necessary, the kind of employment for which he is fit, and that certificate shall be conclusive evidence as to the matters so certified.

(3) Where no agreement can be come to between the employer and the workman as to whether or to what extent the incapacity of the workman is due to the accident, the provisions of this section shall, subject to any regulations made by the Governor, apply as if the question were a question as to the condition of the workman.

(4) If a workman, on being required so to do, refuses to submit himself for examination by a medical referee to whom the matter has been so referred as aforesaid, or in any way obstructs the same, his right to compensation and to take or prosecute any proceeding under this Act in relation to compensation, or, in the case of a workman in receipt of a weekly payment, his right to that weekly payment, shall be suspended until such examination has taken place.

(5) Rules of court may be made for prescribing the manner in which documents are to be furnished or served and applications made under this section and the forms to be used for those purposes, and as to the fee to be paid under this section.

36. PERRY v. WOOLCOCK (1917) S.A.L.R. 216; 8 Aust. Digest 35. A general verdict in favour of the employer in an action by a workman based on common law negligence, in which action the employer pleaded an agreement on the part of the workman to accept compensation under the Workmen's Compensation Act, does not make the question whether there was such an agreement res judicata.

BENNETT v. WALLAROO-MOUNT LYELL FERTILIZERS LIMITED (1925) S.A.S.R. 132. Where the jury found that the employer had paid moneys to the workman intending that they should be paid and received as weekly payments under the Workmen's Compensation Act, and the workman received the moneys paid and intended to receive them under the Act, but that the workman had not exercised his option of claiming under the Act, held that the finding of the

 - (b) unless within six months after he received compensation, or if more than one payment of compensation was made, within six months after he received the first such payment, he gave the employer written notice of his intention to bring that action.
- (3) When a workman has recovered judgment against an employer independently of this Act for damages in respect of an accident, he shall not commence or continue any proceedings for or in relation to compensation under this Act in respect of the same accident.
- (4) A workman shall not commence or continue any proceedings against his employer for damages independently of this Act in respect of any injury by accident—
- (a) after he has obtained a final award against his employer under which his employer is liable to pay compensation under this Act in respect of the same injury;
 - (b) after a memorandum of an agreement has been recorded under section 48 of this Act, by which the amount of compensation payable to the workman in respect of the same injury has been agreed upon and the workman has expressly agreed not to bring any proceedings against the employer in respect of such injury independently of this Act.

KNILL V. CLARKE (1924) S.A.S.R. 59. Knowledge of the remedies open to him is prima facie to be imputed to a workman injured by the negligence of his employer. Held, on the evidence, that the workman had elected to take compensation under the Workmen's Compensation Acts.

CANNIZARRO V. BIDE AND ANOTHER (1942) S.A.S.R. 82. Held that, as the plaintiff was an infant, a claim for compensation under the Workmen's Compensation Act and the payment of compensation was not a bar to the bringing of a subsequent action for negligence.

DAVIES V. ADELAIDE CHEMICAL AND FERTILIZER COMPANY LIMITED (1946) S.A.S.R. 1. Held that in the particular circumstances, the defendant company had not discharged the onus on it of proving that the workman had made an election under section 69 as previously enacted.

the employer by way of compensation under this Act in respect of the same accident.

70. (1) If within the time in this Act limited for taking proceedings an action is brought to recover damages independently of this Act for injury caused by any accident, and it is determined in such action that the injury is one for which the employer is not liable in such action, but that he would have been liable to pay compensation under the provisions of this Act, the action shall be dismissed; but the court in which the action is tried shall, if the plaintiff so chooses, proceed to assess such compensation, but may deduct from such compensation all or part of the costs which, in its judgment, have been caused by the plaintiff bringing the action instead of proceeding under this Act.

(2) In any proceeding under this section, when the court assesses the compensation it shall give a certificate of the compensation it has awarded and the directions it has given as to the deduction for costs, and such certificate shall have the force and effect of an award under this Act.

CHAPPELL V. ADELAIDE ELECTRIC SUPPLY COMPANY LIMITED (1943) S.A.S.R. 349. Held that an injury to a workman of the plaintiff was not caused under circumstances which created a legal liability in the defendant to pay damages in respect thereof and accordingly, that the sum paid to the widow of the workman as compensation could not, under section 71 (as previously enacted), be recovered from the defendant.

of that compensation as does not exceed the amount recovered from the third party.

(3) Upon notice to the third party, the employer shall have a first charge on moneys payable by the third party to the workman, to the extent of any compensation which the employer has paid to the workman.

(4) If the workman has received compensation under this Act, but no damages or less than the full amount of the damages to which he is entitled, the third party shall be liable to indemnify the employer against so much of the compensation paid to the workman as does not exceed the damages for which the third party is still liable.

(5) Payment of money by a third party to the employer pursuant to subsection (4) of this section shall, to the extent of the amount paid, be a satisfaction of the liability of the third party to the workman.

72. If a claim for compensation has already been made by the claimant in respect of the injury under any law of the United Kingdom or of any other part of His Majesty's dominions, compensation under this Act shall not be allowed to the claimant, nor shall any person having such a claim under any such law claim under this Act unless he declares in writing that he has not claimed, and will not claim, compensation for the injury under any such law.

(2) If the Public Actuary, after taking steps to ascertain the views of the employer and workmen, certifies—

(a) that any scheme of compensation, benefit, or insurance for the workmen of an employer in any employment (whether or not such scheme includes other employers and their workmen) provides scales of compensation not less favourable to the workmen and their dependants than the corresponding scales contained in this Act; and

(b) that, where the scheme provides for contributions by the workmen, the scheme confers benefits at least equivalent to those contributions, in addition to the benefits to which the workmen would have been entitled under this Act, and that a

the employer may, while the certificate is in force, contract with any workman employed by him that the provisions of the scheme shall be substituted for the provisions of this Act, and thereupon the employer shall, with respect to such workman and his dependants, be liable only in accordance with the scheme.

(3) The Public Actuary may give a certificate to expire at the end of a limited period of not more than five years, and may from time to time renew, with or without modifications, such certificate so as to expire at the end of the period for which it is renewed.

(4) No scheme shall be so certified which contains an obligation upon the workmen to join the scheme as a condition of their hiring, or which does not contain provisions enabling a workman to withdraw from the scheme.

- (a) that the benefits conferred by any scheme no longer conform to the conditions stated in the last preceding section; or
- (b) that the provisions of such scheme are being violated; or
- (c) that the scheme is not being fairly administered; or
- (d) that satisfactory reasons exist for revoking the certificate, the Public Actuary shall examine into the complaint, and, if satisfied that good cause exists for such complaint, shall, unless the cause of complaint is removed, revoke the certificate.

(2) When a certificate is revoked or expires any moneys or securities held for the purpose of the scheme shall, after due provision has been made to discharge the liabilities already accrued, be distributed as may be arranged between the employer and workmen or as may be determined by the Public Actuary in the event of a difference of opinion.

(3) Whenever a scheme has been certified as aforesaid it shall be the duty of the employer to answer all such inquiries and to furnish all such accounts in regard to the scheme as
