7—Guarantee of bail

- (1) A guarantee of bail is an agreement with the Crown under which a person—

  - (c) must be made in accordance with any procedure prescribed by the regulations.

- (1a) An application for release on bail need not be made in accordance with subsection (1)—
- (a) if the bail authority is satisfied that a less formal application should be permitted in view of the applicant's illiteracy, imperfect command of the English language, intellectual limitations or for any other proper reason; or
  - (b) if the bail authority has access to an application previously made by the applicant and considers that a further written application is unnecessary.
- (2) A person who has the custody of an eligible person must, at the request of that person—
- (a) afford such assistance as that person reasonably requires to complete a written application for release on bail; and
  - (b) if the custodian is not a bail authority—transmit the application as soon as practicable to a bail authority.

- (3) Where the applicant is a person who is appearing or is to appear before a court as a witness in proceedings (other than proceedings relating to an offence for which that person has been charged or convicted), the bail authority should, subject to this Act, release the applicant on bail unless there is a likelihood that the applicant would, if released, abscond.
- (4) Despite the other provisions of this section, where there is a victim of the offence, the bail authority must, in determining whether the applicant should be released on bail, give primary consideration to the need that the victim may have, or perceive, for physical protection from the applicant.

- (1) Subject to this section, a bail authority may impose one or more of the conditions referred to in subsection (2).
- (2) The conditions that may be imposed in relation to the grant of bail are as follows:

- (5) A financial condition must not be imposed under this section unless the bail authority is of the opinion that the object of ensuring that the applicant complies with the bail agreement cannot be properly secured by a non-financial condition or combination of non-financial conditions.
- (6) It is a condition of every bail agreement that the person released in pursuance of the agreement will not leave the State for any reason—

  - (c) on any other matter stipulated by the bail authority.
- (9) Where—
- (a) a bail authority imposes a condition under this section; but
  - (b) the applicant remains in custody because the condition is not fulfilled,
- the applicant must (if he or she is not sooner released) be brought back before a bail authority for a review of the condition as soon as reasonably practicable and, in any event, within five working days after the condition is imposed.

- (4) The amount of a pecuniary forfeiture that is carried into effect pursuant to an order under this section may be recovered as a fine.

20—Termination of bail agreement

When a person who is on bail is sentenced, or discharged without sentence, the bail agreement and guarantees (if any) terminate.

Part 6—Miscellaneous

21—Evidence

An apparently genuine document purporting to be a bail agreement or guarantee, or a copy of a bail agreement or guarantee, will be accepted by any court or justice as evidence of the bail agreement or guarantee and of its terms and conditions.

21A—Applications on behalf of the Crown

An application may be made or a consent given under this Act on behalf of the Crown by—

21B—Intervention programs

- (1) When a court releases a person who has been charged with an offence on bail, the court may make it a condition of the bail agreement that the person undertake an intervention program.

- (2) However—
- (a) if the person does not agree to the imposition of such a condition, the court cannot impose it; and
  - (b) before the court imposes such a condition the court must satisfy itself that—
    - (i) the person is eligible for the services to be included on the program in accordance with applicable eligibility criteria (if any); and
    - (ii) those services are available for the person at a suitable time and place.
- (3) The court may make appropriate orders for assessment of the person to determine—
- (a) a form of intervention program that is appropriate for the person; and
  - (b) the person's eligibility for the services included on the program,
- and may release the person on bail on condition that he or she undertake the assessment as ordered.
- (4) Where a bail agreement contains a condition under this section—
- (a) the person released on bail under the agreement must comply with conditions regulating his or her participation in the assessment or intervention program notified from time to time by the person's case manager; and
  - (b) a failure to comply with a requirement under paragraph (a) may be regarded as a breach of a condition of the bail agreement.
- (5) The court may, at any time, on application by a person released on bail on condition that he or she participate in an assessment or intervention program, make an order revoking or varying the condition.
- (6) If an intervention program manager considers that—
- (a) a person has failed to comply with a condition regulating the person's participation in an assessment or intervention program; and
  - (b) the failure to comply (of itself or in connection with other matters) suggests that the person is unwilling to participate in the assessment or program as directed,
- the manager must refer the matter to the court and the court must then determine whether the failure to comply constitutes a breach of the bail agreement.
- (7) A certificate apparently signed—
- (a) by an intervention program manager as to—
    - (i) whether the services to be included on a program are available for a particular person and, if so, when they will be available; or
    - (ii) whether a particular person is eligible for the services to be included on a program; or
  - (b) by a case manager as to whether a particular person has complied with conditions regulating his or her participation in an assessment or intervention program, is admissible as evidence of the matter so certified.

21C—Power of delegation—intervention program manager

- (1) An intervention program manager may, by instrument in writing, delegate a power or function under this Act—
  - (a) to a particular person; or
  - (b) to the person for the time being occupying a particular position.
- (2) A power or function so delegated under this section may, if the instrument of delegation so provides, be further delegated.
- (3) A delegation—
  - (a) may be absolute or conditional; and
  - (b) does not derogate from the power of the delegator to act in a matter; and
  - (c) is revocable at will.

22—False information on bail applications

A person who provides false information in an application for release on bail knowing it to be false is guilty of an offence.

- (b) the provisions of the Summary Procedure Act 1921 relating to restraining orders.

25—Non-application of 48 Geo. III c. 58 in this State
