- (2) The purposes are achieved by—
- (a) imposing mass limits for heavy vehicles, particular components of heavy vehicles, and loads on heavy vehicles; and
  - (b) imposing restrictions about the size of heavy vehicles and the projections of loads on heavy vehicles; and
  - (c) imposing requirements about securing loads on heavy vehicles; and
  - (d) restricting access to roads by heavy vehicles of a particular mass, size or configuration even if the vehicles comply with the mass limits, restrictions and requirements mentioned in paragraphs (a) to (c).
- (3) However, this Chapter recognises that the use of particular heavy vehicles that do not comply with the mass limits, restrictions and requirements mentioned in subsection (2)(a) to (c) may be permitted on roads in particular circumstances and subject to particular conditions—
- (a) to allow for—
    - (i) the efficient road transport of goods or passengers by heavy vehicles; or
    - (ii) the efficient use of large heavy vehicles that are transporting neither goods nor passengers and need to use roads for special uses; and
  - (b) without compromising the achievement of the purposes.

Part 2—Mass requirements

Division 1—Requirements

95—Prescribed mass requirements

- (1) The national regulations may prescribe requirements (the prescribed mass requirements) about the following:
- (a) the mass of heavy vehicles;
  - (b) the mass of components of heavy vehicles.
- (2) Without limiting subsection (1), the prescribed mass requirements may include the following:
- (a) requirements about mass limits relating to—
    - (i) the tare mass of heavy vehicles; or
    - (ii) the mass of heavy vehicles together with their loads; or
    - (iii) the mass on tyres, axles or axle groups of heavy vehicles;
  - (b) requirements about mass limits relating to axle spacing.
- (3) Also, without limiting subsection (1) or (2), the prescribed mass requirements may—
- (a) include mass limits that are to apply only to particular areas or routes; and
  - (b) authorise or require the Regulator to decide the areas or routes to which the mass limits are to apply.

- (4) The national regulations may prescribe requirements (that are not prescribed mass requirements) about the use on roads of heavy vehicles under particular mass limits, including, for example—
- (a) a requirement that drivers of heavy vehicles using the vehicles under mass limits applying only to particular areas or routes decided by the Regulator must comply with conditions on the use of heavy vehicles on roads under the mass limits imposed by the Regulator (including conditions required by road managers for the roads); and
  - (b) a requirement that drivers of heavy vehicles who are driving the vehicles under particular mass limits must carry particular documents; and
  - (c) a requirement that a particular document or other thing must be displayed on heavy vehicles used under particular mass limits.
- (5) In this section—
- tare mass*, of a heavy vehicle, means the mass of the vehicle that—
- (a) is ready for service; and
  - (b) is fitted with all standard equipment, together with any options that are fitted; and
  - (c) is unoccupied and unladen; and
  - (d) has all fluid reservoirs (other than for fuel) filled to nominal capacity; and
  - (e) has 10 litres of fuel in the fuel reservoir or reservoirs (but excluding any loaded fuel in excess of 10 litres).

96—Compliance with mass requirements

- (1) A person must not drive on a road a heavy vehicle that (together with its load) does not, or whose components do not, comply with the mass requirements applying to the vehicle.

Maximum penalty:

- (a) for a minor risk breach—$4 000; or
  - (b) for a substantial risk breach—$6 000; or
  - (c) for a severe risk breach—$10 000, plus an additional maximum $500 for every additional 1% over a 120% overload (but so that the additional maximum penalty does not exceed $20 000).
- (2) A person charged with an offence against subsection (1) does not have the benefit of the mistake of fact defence for the offence.
- (3) However, in a proceeding for an offence against subsection (1), the person charged has the benefit of the reasonable steps defence for the offence.

Note—

See Division 1 and Division 2 of Chapter 10 Part 4 for the reasonable steps defence.

- (4) If a PBS vehicle is authorised by its PBS vehicle approval to have a mass limit that exceeds a limit that would otherwise apply to the vehicle under a prescribed mass requirement, the authorised limit is taken to be the applicable limit, and the vehicle is regarded for the purposes of this Law as complying with the prescribed mass requirement.

- (3) However, in a proceeding for an offence against subsection (1), the person charged has the benefit of the reasonable steps defence for the offence.

Note—

See Division 1 and Division 2 of Chapter 10 Part 4 for the reasonable steps defence.

- (4) If a PBS vehicle is authorised by its PBS vehicle approval to have a dimension that exceeds a dimension limit that would otherwise apply to the vehicle under a prescribed dimension requirement, the authorised dimension is taken to be the applicable dimension, and the vehicle is regarded for the purposes of this Law as complying with the prescribed dimension requirement.

    - (i) the damage or likely damage; or
    - (ii) the adverse effects or likely adverse effects; or
    - (iii) the significant risks or likely significant risks.
- (4) Also, in deciding whether or not to give the consent, the road manager must have regard to—

- (2) If the consultation with the other entity is not yet completed, the road manager must, as far as practicable, deal with the request for consent and decide to give or not to give the consent (even though the consultation with the other entity is not completed).
- (3) If the road manager decides to give the consent even though the consultation with the other entity is not completed, the consent is not operative unless and until—
  - (a) the consultation is completed; and
  - (b) if the other entity's approval is required, the other entity gives its approval.
- (4) If—
  - (a) the consultation with the other entity is completed and the other entity's approval is required; and
  - (b) the road manager has not yet decided to give or not to give the consent, the road manager may—
    - (c) decide not to give the consent, on the ground that the consent would be inoperative; or
    - (d) decide to give the consent, but the consent is inoperative without the other entity's approval.
- (5) The Regulator must not grant a mass or dimension authority if—
  - (a) consultation is required under a law with another entity; and

- (4) If a fee is payable for the route assessment under a law of the jurisdiction in which the road is situated—
  - (a) the road manager may stop considering whether to give or not to give the consent until the fee is paid; and
  - (b) the period between the day the applicant is given the notification under subsection (3) and the day the fee is paid must not be counted in working out the period taken by the road manager to decide whether to give or not to give the consent.
- (5) If the applicant does not pay the fee for the route assessment within 28 days after the notification is given to the applicant under subsection (3), or a longer period agreed to by the Regulator, the application lapses.

  - (b) the Regulator must impose the stated travel condition on the authority.

162—Imposition of vehicle conditions

- (1) A relevant road manager for a mass or dimension authority who gives consent to the grant of the authority may ask the Regulator to impose a stated vehicle condition on the authority.
- (2) If a relevant road manager for a mass or dimension authority makes a request as mentioned in subsection (1), the Regulator must—

    - (ii) not to impose the stated vehicle condition on the authority; and
  - (b) notify the relevant road manager of the decision under paragraph (a).

163—Obtaining consent of road authority if particular road manager refuses to give consent

- (1) This section applies if a relevant road manager for a mass or dimension authority—

- (b) either—
- (i) decides not to consent to the grant of the mass or dimension authority; or

- (4) If the relevant road authority gives the consent or gives the consent on the condition that a stated road condition or travel condition is imposed on the mass or dimension authority—
- (a) the decision of the relevant road manager has no effect for the purposes of this Law; and
  - (b) to the extent this Law applies in relation to the consent of, or the road conditions or travel conditions required by, the relevant road manager, this Law (other than this section) applies as if a reference in it to the relevant road manager were a reference to the relevant road authority.
- (5) In this section—
- relevant road authority*, for a decision of a relevant road manager for a mass or dimension authority, means the road authority for the participating jurisdiction in which the road for which the relevant road manager is a road manager is situated.

164—Information notice for imposition of road conditions requested by road manager

- (2) The information notice for the decision to impose the condition given to the person under this Law must state the following, in addition to any other information required to be included in the information notice—
  - (a) that the road manager consented to the mass or dimension authority on the condition that the travel condition is imposed on the authority;

  - (b) the Regulator proposes to grant a mass or dimension authority (the proposed replacement authority) by way of renewal so as to replace the previous authority on its expiry; and
  - (c) the Regulator proposes to impose the same conditions on the proposed replacement authority as applied to the previous authority; and
  - (d) the Regulator informs the relevant road manager that the Regulator is seeking to obtain the manager's consent in accordance with the procedure under this section (the expedited procedure).
- (2) However, this section does not apply, or ceases to apply, if—
  - (a) there are differences between the terms of the previous authority and the terms of the proposed replacement authority, including, for example—
    - (i) differences relating to the description of the type of heavy vehicle covered by the proposed replacement authority; and
    - (ii) additional, deleted or varied conditions; and
    - (iii) the inclusion of additional areas or routes; or
  - (b) the relevant road manager gives the Regulator a notice of objection to the application of this section to the proposed replacement authority and that notice of objection is given within the period (the relevant period) of—

  - (c) the Regulator gives the relevant road manager a notice that the Regulator withdraws the proposed replacement authority from the expedited procedure; or
  - (d) a law of this jurisdiction requires consultation with third parties before the grant of the proposed replacement authority or before access to a particular route or area covered by it is given.
- (3) The road manager is taken to have given the consent at the end of the relevant period to the grant of the proposed replacement authority on the same conditions as applied to the previous authority, unless before the end of that period the road manager gives written notice to the Regulator that the road manager gives or refuses consent.

168—Operation of section 167

- (1) Sections 156 to 166 do not apply to a request for consent while a proposed replacement authority is being dealt with under the expedited procedure under section 167.

- (2) Those sections apply to the request for consent if section 167 does not apply or ceases to apply, as referred to in section 167(2).

169—Granting limited consent for trial purposes

- (1) A relevant road manager may give consent to the grant of a mass or dimension authority for a trial period of no more than 3 months specified by the road manager.
- (2) The trial period determines the maximum period for which the mass or dimension authority applies.
- (3) If there is more than one relevant road manager in relation to a proposed mass or dimension authority, the consent of one or more of the road managers is ineffective unless all the road managers give their consent to the same effect.

170—Renewal of limited consent for trial purposes

- (1) The Regulator must notify each relevant road manager that gave consent under section 169 that the mass or dimension authority concerned will be renewed with effect from the end of the current period of its duration unless action is taken under this section.
- (2) The notification must be given at least one month before the end of the current trial period.
- (3) The Regulator must renew the mass or dimension authority for a further trial period of no more than 3 months, unless the Regulator receives a written objection to its renewal from a relevant road manager within the current trial period.
- (4) The mass or dimension authority is renewable for one or more further trial periods.

171—Period for which mass or dimension authority applies where limited consent

- (1) This section applies where a mass or dimension exemption is granted under section 169 or 170.
- (2) In the case of a mass or dimension exemption (permit) or a class 2 heavy vehicle authorisation (permit), the period for which the permit applies must not exceed the length of the trial period.
- (3) In the case of a mass or dimension exemption (notice) or a class 2 heavy vehicle authorisation (notice), then, despite section 120 or 141, the period for which the notice applies is so much of the period stated in the Commonwealth Gazette notice referred to in that section as does not exceed the trial period.

172—Requirements for statement explaining adverse decision of road manager

- (1) This section applies to a written statement explaining a decision of a relevant road manager under this Division—
- (a) not to give consent to the grant of a mass or dimension authority (as referred to in section 156); or

- (i) a road condition is imposed on the authority (as referred to in section 160); or

- (ii) a travel condition is imposed on the authority (as referred to in section 161).
- (2) The written statement complies with this section if it—
- (a) sets out the findings on material questions of fact, referring to the evidence or other material on which those findings were based and giving the reasons for the road manager's decision; and
  - (b) identifies every document or part of a document that is relevant to the road manager's decision and is—
    - (i) in the road manager's possession; or
    - (ii) under the road manager's control; or

- (4) If, after considering all written representations made under subsection (3)(d), the Regulator still considers a ground exists to take the proposed action, the Regulator may—
  - (a) if the proposed action was to amend the mass or dimension authority—amend the authority in a way that is not substantially different from the proposed action, including, for example, by—
    - (i) amending the areas or routes to which the authority applies; or

- (6) The amendment or cancellation takes effect—
  - (a) 28 days after the Commonwealth Gazette notice is published under subsection (5); or
  - (b) if a later time is stated in the Commonwealth Gazette notice, at the later time.

  - (b) if the road authority gives the Regulator its written approval of the request, the Regulator must comply with the request; and
  - (c) if the road authority does not give written approval of the road manager's request within 28 days after the referral is made, the Regulator—
    - (i) must not comply with the request; and
    - (ii) must notify the road manager that the road authority has not given its written approval of the request and, as a result, the Regulator must not comply with it.
- (5) Notice of the amendment or cancellation must be published—

  - (a) to amend the areas or routes to which the authority applies (otherwise than by omitting an area or route or reducing an area or route in size); or
  - (b) to impose or amend road conditions or travel conditions,then—
  - (c) the Regulator must ask the relevant road managers (for the roads to which the amendment relates) for their consent to the amendment; and
  - (d) the provisions of Division 2 apply to the request for consent in the same way as they apply to a request for consent under that Division, with the modifications (if any) prescribed by the national regulations and with any necessary modifications.
- (5) The Regulator must decide the application as soon as practicable after receiving it.
- (6) If the Regulator decides to grant the application—
  - (a) the Regulator must give the applicant notice of the decision; and

Division 3—Loading managers

209—Duty to ensure loading arrangements will not cause driver to exceed speed limit

- (1) A loading manager for goods in heavy vehicles must take all reasonable steps to ensure the arrangements for loading goods onto and unloading goods from heavy vehicles will not cause the driver of a heavy vehicle to exceed a speed limit applying to the driver.

Examples of reasonable steps—

- reviewing loading and unloading times and delays at loading and unloading places
- identifying potential loading and unloading congestion in consultation with drivers and other parties in the chain of responsibility
- having a system of setting and allocating loading and unloading times the driver can reasonably rely on allowing loading and unloading to happen at an agreed time

Maximum penalty: $10 000.

Notes—

- 1 Section 622 sets out some of the factors a court may consider in deciding whether a person has taken all reasonable steps.
- 2 Section 623 sets out 1 method by which a loading manager can take all reasonable steps for the purposes of this section.
- (2) A person charged with an offence against subsection (1) does not have the benefit of the mistake of fact defence for the offence.

Division 4—Particular consignors and consignees

210—Consignors to whom Division 4 applies

This Division applies to a person (a commercial consignor) who engages a particular operator of a heavy vehicle, either directly or through an agent or other intermediary, to transport goods for the person by road for commercial purposes.

211—Consignees to whom Division 4 applies

This Division applies only to a consignee of goods—

- (a) who has consented to being, and is named or otherwise identified as, the intended consignee of goods in the transport documentation relating to the transport of the goods by road by a particular operator of a heavy vehicle; and
- (b) who knows, or who ought reasonably to know, that the goods are to be transported by road.

Note—

See section 632 for the matters a court may consider when deciding whether a person ought reasonably to have known something.

212—Duty to ensure terms of consignment will not cause driver to exceed speed limit etc

- (1) A commercial consignor or a consignee of goods must take all reasonable steps to ensure the terms of consignment will not cause the relevant driver to exceed a speed limit applying to the driver.

Maximum penalty: $10 000.

- (2) A commercial consignor or a consignee of goods must take all reasonable steps to ensure the terms of consignment will not cause a relevant party for the relevant driver to cause the driver to exceed a speed limit applying to the driver.

Examples of reasonable steps for the purposes of subsections (1) and (2)—

- ensuring contractual arrangements and documentation for the consignment and delivery of goods enable speed limit compliance
- contingency planning concerning consignments and delivery times
- regular consultation with other parties in the chain of responsibility, unions and industry associations to address compliance issues

Maximum penalty: $10 000.

Notes for the purposes of subsections (1) and (2)—

- 1 Section 622 sets out some of the factors a court may consider in deciding whether a person has taken all reasonable steps.
- 2 Section 623 sets out 1 method by which a consignor or consignee can take all reasonable steps for the purposes of subsection (1) or (2).
- (3) A person charged with an offence against subsection (1) or (2) does not have the benefit of the mistake of fact defence for the offence.
- (4) In this section—
- relevant driver, for consigned goods, means the driver of the heavy vehicle by which the goods are to be or are being transported;

relevant party, for the relevant driver for consigned goods, means—

- (a) an employer of the driver if the driver is an employed driver; or
- (b) a prime contractor of the driver if the driver is a self-employed driver; or

213—Duty not to make a demand that may result in driver exceeding the speed limit

A commercial consignor or a consignee of goods must not make a demand that affects, or may affect, a time in a schedule for the transport of the consigned goods unless—

- (a) the consignor or consignee has complied with section 212; and
- (b) the consignor or consignee is reasonably satisfied the making of the demand will not cause a person to contravene section 207 or 208.

Maximum penalty: $6 000.

Division 5—Particular requests etc and contracts etc prohibited

214—Who is a party in the chain of responsibility

- (1) For the purposes of this Division, each of the following persons is a party in the chain of responsibility for a heavy vehicle:

  - (f) a commercial consignor of any goods for transport by the vehicle that are in the vehicle;
  - (g) a consignee of any goods in the vehicle, if Division 4 applies to the consignee.

Note—

The exercise of any of these functions, whether exclusively or occasionally, decides whether a person falls within any of these definitions, rather than the person's job title or contractual description.

- (2) A person may be a party in the chain of responsibility for a heavy vehicle in more than 1 capacity.

Example—

A person may be simultaneously the driver's employer, an operator and a consignor of goods in relation to a heavy vehicle and be subject to duties in each of the capacities.

215—Particular requests etc prohibited

A person must not ask, direct or require, directly or indirectly, the driver of a heavy vehicle, or a party in the chain of responsibility for a heavy vehicle, to do something the person knows, or ought reasonably to know, would have the effect of causing the driver to exceed a speed limit applying to the driver.

Example of a requirement that contravenes this section—

a requirement that the driver complete a journey in a time the person knows or ought reasonably to know cannot be complied with unless the driver exceeds the speed limit or does not have all the rest time the driver is required to have under a minimum rest requirement

Maximum penalty: $10 000.

Note—

See section 632 for the matters a court may consider when deciding whether a person ought reasonably to have known something.

216—Particular contracts etc prohibited

- (1) A person must not enter into a contract or other agreement with the driver of a heavy vehicle, or with a party in the chain of responsibility for a heavy vehicle, that the person knows, or ought reasonably to know, would have the effect of causing the vehicle's driver to exceed a speed limit applying to the driver.

Maximum penalty: $10 000.

- (2) A person must not enter into a contract or other agreement with the driver of a heavy vehicle, or with a party in the chain of responsibility for a heavy vehicle, that the person knows, or ought reasonably to know, would encourage or provide an incentive for the vehicle's driver, or a party in the chain of responsibility for the vehicle to cause the vehicle's driver, to exceed a speed limit applying to the driver.

Maximum penalty: $10 000.

Notes for the purposes of subsections (1) and (2)—

- 1 See section 632 for the matters a court may consider when deciding whether a person ought reasonably to have known something.
- 2 See also section 742, which provides that particular contracts or other agreements are void.

Division 6—Provisions about offences against this Part

217—Objective reasonableness test to be used in deciding causation

- (1) This section applies in relation to a proceeding for an offence against this Part that may be committed by a person failing to take all reasonable steps to ensure someone else does not drive a heavy vehicle in excess of a speed limit applying to the vehicle's driver (prohibited act).
- (2) For the purposes of subsection (1), a person failing to take all reasonable steps to ensure someone else does not do a prohibited act includes—
- (a) the person failing to take reasonable steps to ensure the other person does not do the prohibited act; and

- (3) However, in a proceeding for an offence against subsection (1), the person charged has the benefit of the reasonable steps defence for the offence.

Note—

See Division 1 and Division 2 of Chapter 10 Part 4 for the reasonable steps defence.

- (4) In a proceeding for an offence against subsection (1)—
- (a) it is irrelevant whether or not the driver has been or will be proceeded against, or convicted of, the speeding offence; and

- (c) an operator of the vehicle if the driver is making, or is to make, a journey for the operator.

236—Duty not to cause driver to drive if particular requirements not complied with

- (1) A consignor or consignee of goods for transport by a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle must not cause the vehicle's driver to drive the vehicle, or enter into a contract or other agreement to that effect, unless—

Division 6—Additional duties of loading managers

238—Duty to ensure loading arrangements will not cause driver to drive while fatigued etc

- (1) A loading manager for goods in heavy vehicles must take all reasonable steps to ensure the arrangements for loading goods onto and unloading goods from fatigue-regulated heavy vehicles at or from the premises in relation to which the person is a loading manager will not cause the driver of a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle to—
- (a) drive while impaired by fatigue; or
  - (b) drive while in breach of the driver's work and rest hours option; or
  - (c) drive in breach of another law in order to avoid driving while impaired by fatigue or while in breach of the driver's work and rest hours option.

Examples of reasonable steps to comply with this section—

- providing for necessary rest time to be had with adequate facilities
- providing for the reporting of travel delays and providing a mechanism for managing late arrivals
- allowing loading and unloading to happen at an agreed time
- having a system of setting and allocating loading and unloading times the driver of a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle can reasonably rely on to comply with the maximum work requirements and minimum rest requirements applying to the driver

Maximum penalty: $10 000.

- (2) A person charged with an offence against subsection (1) does not have the benefit of the mistake of fact defence for the offence.

239—Duty to ensure drivers can rest in particular circumstances

- (1) This section applies if a loading manager for goods in a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle, or a person acting under the loading manager's supervision or control—
- (a) has advised the vehicle's driver, either directly or indirectly, of when the loading of goods onto or unloading of goods from the vehicle is to start, and the loading manager or person becomes aware the loading or unloading will, or is likely to, start more than 30 minutes late; or
  - (b) has advised the vehicle's driver, either directly or indirectly, of when the loading of goods onto or unloading of goods from the vehicle is to finish, and the loading manager or person becomes aware the loading or unloading will, or is likely to, finish more than 30 minutes late; or
  - (c) is unable to advise the vehicle's driver of when the loading of goods onto or unloading of goods from the vehicle is to start; or
  - (d) is unable to advise the vehicle's driver of when the loading of goods onto or unloading of goods from the vehicle is to finish.

- (2) The loading manager must take all reasonable steps to ensure the driver is able to rest while waiting for the goods to be loaded onto or unloaded from the fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle.

Example of reasonable steps that may be taken to ensure the driver of a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle is able to rest—

providing a system of notifying the driver when goods can be loaded onto or unloaded from the driver's vehicle that does not require the driver to be awake or unreasonably alert

Maximum penalty: $6 000.

- (3) A person charged with an offence against subsection (2) does not have the benefit of the mistake of fact defence for the offence.

Division 7—Particular requests etc and contracts etc prohibited

240—Particular requests etc prohibited

A person must not ask, direct or require, directly or indirectly, the driver of a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle, or a party in the chain of responsibility for a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle, to do or not do something the person knows, or ought reasonably to know, would have the effect of causing the vehicle's driver to—

- (a) drive while impaired by fatigue; or
- (b) drive while in breach of the driver's work and rest hours option; or
- (c) drive in breach of another law in order to avoid driving while impaired by fatigue or while in breach of the driver's work and rest hours option.

Example of a requirement that contravenes this section—

a requirement that the driver complete a journey in a time the person knows or ought reasonably to know cannot be complied with unless the driver commits a speeding offence or does not have all the rest time the driver is required to have under this Law

Maximum penalty: $10 000.

Note—

See section 632 for the matters a court may consider when deciding whether a person ought reasonably to have known something.

241—Particular contracts etc prohibited

- (1) A person must not enter into a contract or other agreement with the driver of a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle, or with a party in the chain of responsibility for a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle, that the person knows, or ought reasonably to know, would have the effect of causing the vehicle's driver to—

- (a) drive while impaired by fatigue; or
- (b) drive while in breach of the driver's work and rest hours option; or
- (c) drive in breach of another law to avoid driving while impaired by fatigue or while in breach of the driver's work and rest hours option.

Maximum penalty: $10 000.

- (2) A person must not enter into a contract or other agreement with the driver of a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle, or with a party in the chain of responsibility for a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle that the person knows, or ought reasonably to know, would encourage or provide an incentive for the vehicle's driver, or a party in the chain of responsibility for the vehicle to cause the vehicle's driver, to—
- (a) drive while impaired by fatigue; or
  - (b) drive while in breach of the driver's work and rest hours option; or
  - (c) drive in breach of another law to avoid driving while impaired by fatigue or while in breach of the driver's work and rest hours option.

Maximum penalty: $10 000.

Notes for the purposes of subsections (1) and (2)—

- 1 See section 632 for the matters a court may consider when deciding whether a person ought reasonably to have known something.
- 2 See section 742, which provides that particular contracts or other agreements are void.

Division 8—Provisions about offences against this Part

242—Objective reasonableness test to be used in deciding causation

- (1) This section applies in relation to a proceeding for an offence against this Part that may be committed by a person failing to take all reasonable steps to ensure someone else does not drive a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle while impaired by fatigue (prohibited act).
- (2) For the purposes of subsection (1), a person failing to take all reasonable steps to ensure someone else does not do a prohibited act includes—
  - (a) the person failing to take reasonable steps to ensure the other person does not do the prohibited act; and
  - (b) the person failing to take reasonable steps to ensure the person's activities, or anything arising out of the person's activities, do not—
    - (i) cause the other person to do the prohibited act; or
    - (ii) result in the other person doing the prohibited act; or
    - (iii) provide an incentive for the other person to do the prohibited act.
- (3) Subsection (4) applies if—
  - (a) a person does an act or makes an omission; and
  - (b) as a result of the act or omission someone else does a prohibited act.
- (4) A court may find the person caused the other person to do the prohibited act if the court is satisfied a reasonable person would have foreseen the person's act or omission would be reasonably likely to cause the other person to do the prohibited act.

Part 3—Requirements relating to work time and rest time

Division 1—Preliminary

243—What is a driver's work and rest hours option

- (1) The work and rest hours option of the driver of a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle is the maximum work requirements and minimum rest requirements applying to the driver under this Law.
- (2) The work and rest hours option is—
  - (a) the standard work and rest arrangements, which—
    - (i) apply to drivers of fatigue-regulated heavy vehicles operating other than under a BFM accreditation, AFM accreditation or work and rest hours exemption; and
    - (ii) are known as 'standard hours'; or
  - (b) the BFM work and rest arrangements, which—
    - (i) apply to drivers of fatigue-regulated heavy vehicles operating under a BFM accreditation; and
    - (ii) are known as 'BFM hours'; or
  - (c) the AFM work and rest arrangements, which—
    - (i) apply to drivers of fatigue-regulated heavy vehicles operating under an AFM accreditation; and
    - (ii) are known as 'AFM hours'; or
  - (d) the maximum work times and minimum rest times stated in a work and rest hours exemption, which—
    - (i) apply to drivers of fatigue-regulated heavy vehicles operating under the exemption; and
    - (ii) are known as 'exemption hours'.

244—Counting time spent in participating jurisdictions

When counting work time or rest time spent by the driver of a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle for this Part, the work time or rest time spent by the driver in any participating jurisdiction must be counted.

245—Counting time spent outside participating jurisdictions

- (1) This section applies to the driver of a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle if the driver drives a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle into a participating jurisdiction from a non-participating jurisdiction.
- (2) If, within the last 7 days, the driver has spent any work time in a participating jurisdiction, any time spent by the driver in the non-participating jurisdiction must be treated in the same way as it would have been treated if the time had been spent in a participating jurisdiction.

- (3) If, within the last 7 days, the driver spent work time only in non-participating jurisdictions—
- (a) any time spent by the driver in the non-participating jurisdiction before the start of the driver's last major rest break before entering a participating jurisdiction must be disregarded; and
  - (b) any time spent by the driver in the non-participating jurisdiction after the start of the last major rest break mentioned in paragraph (a) must be—
    - (i) taken into account; and
    - (ii) treated in the same way as it would have been treated if the time had been spent in a participating jurisdiction.

246—Counting periods of less than 15 minutes

- (1) Work time must be counted in 15 minute periods.
- (2) A period of work time of less than 15 minutes counts as 15 minutes work time.

Examples for the purposes of subsection (2)—

- 1 A period of working for 14 minutes counts as 15 minutes work time.
- 2 A period of working for 17 minutes counts as 30 minutes work time.
- 3 A period of working for 53 minutes counts as 1 hour work time.

- (3) Rest time must be counted in blocks of time of no less than 15 minutes.
- (4) A period of rest time of less than 15 minutes must be disregarded.

Examples for the purposes of subsection (4)—

- 1 A period of not working for only 14 minutes does not count as rest time, because 14 minutes is less than 15 minutes.
- 2 A period of not working for 17 minutes counts as 15 minutes rest time, because 17 minutes is more than 15 minutes, but is less than 2 lots of 15 minutes (30 minutes).

247—Time to be counted after rest time ends

When counting time in a period, the time must not be counted from within rest time, but instead must be counted forward from—

- (a) if 1 or more major rest breaks are relevant to the period—the end of a relevant major rest break; or
- (b) in any other case—the end of a relevant period of rest time.

Example—

An authorised officer intercepts the driver of a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle on a Friday and inspects the driver's work diary. The driver operates under standard hours. The officer examines the work diary entries for the previous Monday. The entries show that the driver completed 7 continuous hours of stationary rest time at 6.30 am on that day, started work at that time, worked until 11 am that day, had 45 minutes of rest time, worked until 5 pm that day, then had stationary rest time until 4.30 am on the following day, Tuesday, and then worked until 6.30 am on that day.

In order to determine the total number of hours worked by the driver in a 24 hour period starting on the Monday, then in accordance with section 247(a) the officer must commence counting from the end of the relevant major rest break, which in this case is from 6.30 am on the Monday until 6.30 am on the Tuesday. Adding up the driver's work periods — 6.30 am to 11 am, 11.45 am to 5.00 pm and 4.30 am to 6.30 am — results in a total of 11¼ hours worked in the 24 hour period.

The officer might also decide to assess whether the driver has complied with his or her maximum work and minimum rest requirements for the same 24 hour period.

For instance, in any period of 5½ hours, a driver must not work for more than 5¼ hours and must have at least 15 minutes continuous rest when operating under standard hours. To assess whether the driver has complied with this requirement, then in accordance with section 247(b) the officer must commence counting only from the end of a period of rest — from either 6.30 am or 11.45 am on the Monday, or from 4.30 am on the Tuesday. If the officer commenced counting at the end of the rest time that finished at 11.45 am, the officer would see that the driver had worked for 5¼ continuous hours before commencing rest.

For the purposes of determining whether on Monday the driver had a minimum of 7 continuous hours stationary rest in a 24 hour period as required under standard hours, the officer must assess the length of the periods of stationary rest time the driver had between the end of the major rest break that finished at 6.30 am on the Monday and 6.30 am on the Tuesday. The officer sees that between 5 pm on the Monday and 4.30 am on the Tuesday the driver had a total of 11½ continuous hours of stationary rest time.

248—Time to be counted by reference to time zone of driver's base

If the driver of a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle undertakes a journey and is in a different time zone from the time zone of the driver's base at the time when a period of time is relevant for the purposes of this Law, the period must be counted by reference to the time zone of the driver's base.

Example—

If, for the driver of a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle with a base in Queensland, it is necessary to work out the hours of night work time while the driver is in Western Australia on a journey, the hours of night work time are the hours between midnight and 6 am in the Queensland time zone (being the time zone in which the driver's base is situated), even though the hours equate to 10 pm and 4 am in Western Australia.

Division 2—Standard work and rest arrangements

249—Standard hours

- (1) The national regulations may prescribe the maximum work times and minimum rest times (the standard hours) applying to the driver of a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle for a period if the driver is not operating under a BFM accreditation, AFM accreditation or work and rest hours exemption.
- (2) Without limiting subsection (1), the national regulations may prescribe—
  - (a) different standard hours for solo drivers, solo drivers of fatigue-regulated buses and drivers who are a party to a two-up driving arrangement; and

- (b) that a solo driver of a fatigue-regulated bus may operate under either, but not both, the standard hours for solo drivers or the standard hours for solo drivers of fatigue-regulated buses.

250—Operating under standard hours—solo drivers

- (1) The solo driver of a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle commits an offence if, in any period stated in the standard hours for the driver, the driver—
- (a) works for more than the maximum work time stated in the standard hours for the period; or
  - (b) rests for less than the minimum rest time stated in the standard hours for the period.

Maximum penalty:

- (a) for a minor risk breach—$4 000; or
  - (b) for a substantial risk breach—$6 000; or
  - (c) for a severe risk breach—$10 000; or
  - (d) for a critical risk breach—$15 000.
- (2) A person charged with an offence against subsection (1) does not have the benefit of the mistake of fact defence for the offence.
- (3) However, in a proceeding for an offence against subsection (1), the person charged has the benefit of the reasonable steps defence for the offence.

Note—

See Division 1 and Division 2 of Chapter 10 Part 4 for the reasonable steps defence.

251—Operating under standard hours—two-up drivers

- (1) The driver of a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle who is a party to a two-up driving arrangement commits an offence if, in any period stated in the standard hours for the driver, the driver—
- (a) works for more than the maximum work time stated in the standard hours for the period; or
  - (b) rests for less than the minimum rest time stated in the standard hours for the period.

Maximum penalty:

- (a) for a minor risk breach—$4 000; or
  - (b) for a substantial risk breach—$6 000; or
  - (c) for a severe risk breach—$10 000; or
  - (d) for a critical risk breach—$15 000.
- (2) A person charged with an offence against subsection (1) does not have the benefit of the mistake of fact defence for the offence.
- (3) However, in a proceeding for an offence against subsection (1), the person charged has the benefit of the reasonable steps defence for the offence.

Note—

See Division 1 and Division 2 of Chapter 10 Part 4 for the reasonable steps defence.

252—Defence relating to short rest breaks for drivers operating under standard hours

- (1) This section applies if, at a particular time, the driver of a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle is required, under section 250 or 251, to have a short rest break.

Examples of when this section applies—

The driver is required to have 15 continuous minutes rest time because—

- (a) the driver has worked for 5¼ hours; or
  - (b) the driver has worked for 7½ hours and has only had 15 continuous minutes rest time during that period; or
  - (c) the driver has worked for 10 hours and has only had 3 lots of 15 continuous minutes rest time during that period.
- (2) In a proceeding for an offence against section 250 or 251 relating to the driver failing to have the short rest break, it is a defence for the driver to prove that—
- (a) at the time the driver was required to have the short rest break, there was no suitable rest place for fatigue-regulated heavy vehicles; and
  - (b) the driver had the short rest break—
    - (i) at the next suitable rest place for fatigue-regulated heavy vehicles available after that time on the forward route of the driver's journey; and
    - (ii) no later than 45 minutes after the time the driver was required to have the short rest break.

Example of when the defence applies—

The driver of a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle fails to have a short rest break after 5¼ hours of work time because there was no suitable rest place for fatigue-regulated heavy vehicles when the driver was scheduled to have the short rest break. Instead, the driver has a short rest break after 5½ hours work at a suitable rest place for fatigue-regulated heavy vehicles down the road.

- (3) In this section—

short rest break means rest time of less than 1 hour.

Division 3—BFM work and rest arrangements

253—BFM hours

- (1) The national regulations may prescribe the maximum work times and minimum rest times applying to the driver of a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle for a period if the driver is operating under a BFM accreditation (the BFM hours).
- (2) Without limiting subsection (1), the national regulations may prescribe different BFM hours for solo drivers and drivers who are a party to a two-up driving arrangement.

254—Operating under BFM hours—solo drivers

- (1) The solo driver of a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle commits an offence if, in any period stated in the BFM hours for the driver, the driver—
- (a) works for more than the maximum work time stated in the BFM hours for the period; or
  - (b) rests for less than the minimum rest time stated in the BFM hours for the period.

Maximum penalty:

- (a) for a minor risk breach—$4 000; or
  - (b) for a substantial risk breach—$6 000; or
  - (c) for a severe risk breach—$10 000; or
  - (d) for a critical risk breach—$15 000.
- (2) A person charged with an offence against subsection (1) does not have the benefit of the mistake of fact defence for the offence.
- (3) However, in a proceeding for an offence against subsection (1), the person charged has the benefit of the reasonable steps defence for the offence.

Note—

See Division 1 and Division 2 of Chapter 10 Part 4 for the reasonable steps defence.

255—Defence for solo drivers operating under BFM hours relating to split rest breaks

- (1) This section applies if, at a particular time, the driver of a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle is required under section 254 to have 7 continuous hours of stationary rest time in a period of 24 hours.
- (2) In a proceeding for an offence against section 254 for a solo driver of a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle relating to the driver failing to have the 7 continuous hours of stationary rest time, it is a defence for the driver to prove that—
- (a) at the time the driver was required to have the 7 continuous hours of stationary rest time, the driver was operating under BFM hours as a solo driver of a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle; and
  - (b) during the period of 24 hours for which the 7 continuous hours of stationary rest time was required to be had, the driver had 6 continuous hours of stationary rest time and 2 continuous hours of stationary rest time (a split rest break); and
  - (c) the driver had not had a split rest break in the previous 24-hour period.

Example of when the defence applies—

The driver of a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle stops work to have 7 continuous hours of stationary rest time, but cannot sleep, and so the driver has only 2 continuous hours of stationary rest time and then drives on for a further 2 hours and has a further 6 continuous hours of stationary rest time at another place down the road. In the previous 24-hour period the driver had 7 continuous hours of stationary rest time.

256—Operating under BFM hours—two-up drivers

- (1) The driver of a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle who is a party to a two-up driving arrangement commits an offence if, in any period stated in the BFM hours for the driver, the driver—
  - (a) works for more than the maximum work time stated in the BFM hours for the period; or
  - (b) rests for less than the minimum rest time stated in the BFM hours for the period.

Maximum penalty:

- (a) for a minor risk breach—$4 000; or
  - (b) for a substantial risk breach—$6 000; or
  - (c) for a severe risk breach—$10 000; or
  - (d) for a critical risk breach—$15 000.
- (2) A person charged with an offence against subsection (1) does not have the benefit of the mistake of fact defence for the offence.
- (3) However, in a proceeding for an offence against subsection (1), the person charged has the benefit of the reasonable steps defence for the offence.

Note—

See Division 1 and Division 2 of Chapter 10 Part 4 for the reasonable steps defence.

Division 4—AFM work and rest arrangements

257—AFM hours

AFM hours are the maximum work times and minimum rest times applying, for a period, to the driver of a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle operating under an AFM accreditation, and stated in the accreditation certificate for the accreditation.

258—Operating under AFM hours

- (1) The driver of a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle commits an offence if, in any period stated in the AFM hours for the driver, the driver—
  - (a) works for more than the maximum work time stated in the AFM hours; or
  - (b) rests for less than the minimum rest time stated in the AFM hours.

Maximum penalty:

- (a) for a minor risk breach—$4 000; or
  - (b) for a substantial risk breach—$6 000; or
  - (c) for a severe risk breach—$10 000; or
  - (d) for a critical risk breach—$15 000.

Examples for the purposes of paragraph (a)—

- 1 If the driver of a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle is changing from BFM hours to standard hours and the minimum rest requirements applying to drivers operating under standard hours requires the driver to have a longer rest time than is required under BFM hours, the driver may start driving under standard hours only if the driver has had the longer rest time or a reset rest break.

  - take whatever action is necessary to ensure the driver can comply with his or her obligations in relation to the change.

Maximum penalty: $6 000.

- (3) A person charged with an offence against subsection (2) does not have the benefit of the mistake of fact defence for the offence.

- (a) grant the approval, with or without conditions about the use or maintenance of the electronic recording system to which the approval relates; or
  - (b) refuse the application.
- (2) The Regulator may approve an electronic recording system only if the Regulator is satisfied the system—
- (a) is suitable or has a part that is suitable for fitting to, or for use in, a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle; and

- (b) has a mechanism that readily indicates to the driver of the fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle to which it or a part of it is fitted, or in which it or a part of it is used, that the system is or is not properly functioning; and
  - (c) is capable of—
    - (i) accurately monitoring and recording the work times and rest times of the driver of the fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle to which it or a part of it is fitted, or in which it or a part of it is used; and
    - (ii) accurately recording any other information the driver is required by this Law to record in a work diary; and
  - (d) if the system or a part of it is to be fitted to a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle and is to be used by more than 1 driver of the vehicle, is capable of ensuring the following:
    - (i) all of the information mentioned in paragraph (c) can be accurately monitored or recorded for each of the drivers;
    - (ii) the details recorded by, or in relation to, 1 of the drivers are readily distinguishable from the details recorded by, or in relation to, the other drivers;
    - (iii) the name of the driver in relation to whom details are recorded is shown whenever the details are accessed;
    - (iv) 1 of the drivers cannot record any information, that the driver is required by this Law to record in a work diary, in the system for any of the other drivers; and
  - (e) has a mechanism to ensure the driver of the fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle to which it or a part of it is fitted, or in which it or a part of it is used, cannot alter any information the driver records in the system once the driver has had an opportunity to confirm the accuracy of the information; and
  - (f) if the system is designed to enable the driver of the fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle to which it or a part of it is fitted, or in which it or a part of it is used, to send information to the driver's record keeper—has a mechanism that readily indicates to the driver that the information has, or has not, been sent to the record keeper; and
  - (g) is capable of readily reproducing, on being accessed by the record keeper for the driver of the fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle to which it or a part of it is fitted, or in which it or a part of it is used, the information that the system contains; and
  - (h) is capable of readily reproducing, on being accessed by an authorised officer while the vehicle to which it or a part of it is fitted, or in which it or a part of it is used, is on a road, the information the system contains in a form that—
    - (i) is readily accessible by the officer; and
    - (ii) is reasonably capable of being understood by the officer; and
    - (iii) can be used as evidence.
- (3) In deciding whether or not to grant the approval, the Regulator must have regard to the approved guidelines for granting electronic recording system approvals.

- (4) An approved electronic recording system may be, or be a part of, an approved intelligent transport system.

344—Steps after decision to grant approval

- (1) If the Regulator grants an approval under section 343, the Regulator must give the applicant—
- (a) a numbered certificate of approval; and
  - (b) an electronic work diary label the holder can use to create a copy for attaching to a device that is or is part of the electronic recording system the subject of the approval.
- (2) If the Regulator imposes conditions on the approval, the certificate of approval given to the applicant must state the conditions.
- (3) If the Regulator imposes conditions on the approval not sought by the applicant, the Regulator must give the applicant an information notice for the decision to impose the conditions.

345—Steps after decision to refuse application

If the Regulator decides not to grant an application for an electronic recording system approval, the Regulator must give the applicant an information notice for the decision.

346—Effect of approval

- (1) An electronic recording system approval granted under this Subdivision applies to any system identical to the system given to the Regulator for approval.
- (2) The conditions imposed on the approval under section 343, or Subdivision 3, apply to each identical system to which the approval applies.

Subdivision 2—Provisions about electronic work diary labels

347—Placing electronic work diary label on device

- (1) A person may place on any device that is, or is part of, an approved electronic recording system an electronic work diary label relating to the approval.

Note—

Under the definition of electronic work diary in section 221, placing an electronic work diary label on a device that is, or is part of, an approved electronic recording system and is fitted to or used in a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle makes the device an electronic work diary for the purposes of this Law.

See also section 349.

- (2) A person must not place an electronic work diary label on a device unless the device is, or is part of, an approved electronic recording system to which the label relates.
Maximum penalty: $10 000.
- (3) A person must not place any other label on a device indicating the device is, or is part of, an approved electronic recording system, unless the device is, or is part of, an approved electronic recording system.
Maximum penalty: $10 000.

348—Particular label indicates device is an approved electronic recording system

- (1) This section applies if a device has attached to it an electronic work diary label.
- (2) The existence of the electronic work diary label on the device is evidence the device is, or is part of, an approved electronic recording system.

349—Effect of electronic work diary label on device

- (1) This section applies if a device has attached to it a label that is, or appears to be, an electronic work diary label.
- (2) For the purposes of this Law, a person is entitled to rely on the label as indicating the device is, or is part of, an approved electronic recording system unless the person knows, or ought reasonably to know, the device is neither an approved electronic recording system nor a part of an approved electronic recording system.

Example for the purposes of subsection (2)—

The record keeper for the driver of a fatigue-regulated heavy vehicle gives the driver a device to which an electronic work diary label is attached for recording information required to be included in the driver's work diary under this Law. The driver may rely on the label as indicating the device is, or is part of, an approved electronic recording system meaning the driver may record the required information in the device on the basis it is an electronic work diary. However, the driver may not rely on the label if the driver knows, or ought reasonably to know the device is not, or is not part of, an approved electronic recording system.

Note—

See section 632 for the matters a court may consider when deciding whether a person ought reasonably to have known something.

350—Prohibition on using device as electronic work diary if it is not, and is not a part of, an approved electronic recording system

- (1) A person must not use as an electronic work diary for the purposes of this Law a device that has attached to it an electronic work diary label if the person knows, or ought reasonably to know, the device is neither an approved electronic recording system, nor a part of an approved electronic recording system, to which the label relates.

Maximum penalty: $10 000.

- (2) A person must not use as an electronic work diary for the purposes of this Law a device that has attached to it any other label indicating the device is, or is part of, an approved electronic recording system, if the person knows, or ought reasonably to know, the device is neither an approved electronic recording system, nor a part of an approved electronic recording system.

Maximum penalty: $10 000.

Note—

See section 632 for the matters a court may consider when deciding whether a person ought reasonably to have known something.

    - (i) a significant risk to public safety; or
    - (ii) a significant risk of the drivers to whom the exemption is to apply driving on a road while impaired by fatigue.
- (2) In deciding whether or not to grant a work diary exemption (notice), the Regulator must have regard to the approved guidelines for granting work diary exemptions.

- (a) if the proposed action was to amend the exemption—amend the exemption in a way that is not substantially different from the proposed action, including, for example, by—
- (i) amending the class of work to which the exemption applies; or

- (g) produce an image or writing at the place from an electronic document at the place or, if it is not practicable to produce the image or writing at the place, take a thing containing the electronic document to another place to produce the image or writing;
- (h) exercise a power in relation to a heavy vehicle at the place that the authorised officer may exercise under Chapter 9 Part 3;
- (i) take to, into or onto the place and use any persons, equipment, materials, vehicles or other things the officer reasonably requires for exercising the officer's powers under this section.

Note—

The term public place is defined in section 5 as a place or part of a place—

- (a) that the public is entitled to use, is open to members of the public or is used by the public, whether or not on payment of money; or
- (b) the occupier of which allows members of the public to enter, whether or not on payment of money.

Accordingly, the term "public place" does not include an office area or an area behind a reception counter, unless the public have access to the area as provided in the definition.

- (2) The authorised officer may take a necessary step to allow the exercise of a general power, including, for example—
- (a) open an unlocked door or an unlocked panel or thing at the place; and
  - (b) move anything that is not locked up or sealed; and
  - (c) if the authorised officer entered the place under section 497(1)(c), use the force that is reasonably necessary for the exercise of the power.
- (3) If an authorised officer takes, or authorises another person to take, a thing or sample for examination under subsection (1)(c), the officer must—
- (a) give a receipt for the thing or sample to—
    - (i) the person in possession of the thing or sample or the thing from which the sample was taken; or

- (ii) the person in charge of the place from which the thing or sample was taken; and
- (b) at the end of 6 months after the thing or sample was taken, return it to the person who appears to be an owner of it, a person to whom a receipt was given under paragraph (a) for it, or a person in charge of the place from which it was taken, unless the thing or sample—
  - (i) has been seized under section 549; or
  - (ii) does not have any intrinsic value.

Note—

See section 561 for what happens if a thing or sample cannot be returned to its owner or the owner cannot be found.

- (4) However, if for any reason it is not practicable to comply with subsection (3)(a), the authorised officer must leave the receipt at the place in a conspicuous position and in a reasonably secure way.
- (5) For exercising a power under subsection (1)(f), the authorised officer may use photocopying equipment at the place free of charge.

Note—

See also sections 543 and 544 for use of particular equipment at a place, or in a vehicle, entered under this Chapter.

- (6) If the authorised officer takes a document from the place to copy it, the document must be copied and returned to the place as soon as practicable.
- (7) If the authorised officer takes from the place a thing containing an electronic document to produce an image or writing from the document, the image or writing must be produced, and the thing must be returned to the place, as soon as practicable.
- (8) However—
  - (a) if the authorised officer entered the place under section 497(1)(a), the officer's powers under this section are subject to the conditions of the consent; and
  - (b) if the authorised officer entered the place under section 497(1)(c), the officer's powers under this section are subject to the terms of the warrant.
- (9) Without limiting section 497(2), the authorised officer may exercise powers under this section at the place even if entry to the place was originally effected under Division 2 for monitoring purposes.
- (10) The power to search under this section does not include a power to search a person.

Division 4—Procedure for entry by consent

501—Application of Division 4

This Division applies if an authorised officer intends to ask an occupier of a place for consent to the officer or another authorised officer entering the place under section 495(1)(a) or 497(1)(a).

502—Incidental entry to ask for access

- (1) For the purpose of asking the occupier for the consent, the authorised officer may, without the occupier's consent or a warrant—
  - (a) enter land around a building or other structure at the place to an extent that is reasonable to contact the occupier; or
  - (b) enter part of the place the officer reasonably believes members of the public ordinarily are allowed to enter when they wish to contact the occupier.
- (2) The authorised officer must not enter land or a part of a place under subsection (1) if the officer knows or ought reasonably to know the place is unattended.
- (3) If the authorised officer enters land or a part of a place under subsection (1), the officer must leave it immediately after finding the place is or appears to be unattended.

503—Matters authorised officer must tell occupier

Before asking for the consent, the authorised officer must give a reasonable explanation to the occupier about the following:

- (a) the purpose of the entry;
- (b) that the occupier is not required to consent;
- (c) that the consent may be given subject to conditions and may be withdrawn at any time;
- (d) any other powers intended to be exercised to achieve the purpose of the entry.

504—Consent acknowledgement

- (1) If the consent is given, the authorised officer may ask the occupier to sign an acknowledgement of the consent.
- (2) The acknowledgement must state—
  - (a) the purpose of the entry, including the powers intended to be exercised to achieve the purpose of the entry; and
  - (b) that the following has been explained to the occupier:
    - (i) the purpose of the entry, including the powers intended to be exercised to achieve the purpose of the entry;
    - (ii) that the occupier is not required to consent; and
  - (c) that the occupier gives the authorised officer consent to enter the place and exercise the powers; and
  - (d) the time and day the consent was given; and
  - (e) any conditions of the consent.
- (3) If the occupier signs the acknowledgement, the authorised officer must immediately give a copy to the occupier.
- (4) However, if it is impractical for the authorised officer to give the occupier a copy of the acknowledgement immediately, the officer must give the copy as soon as practicable.

- (5) If the acknowledgment states some but not all the powers exercised or intended to be exercised to achieve the purpose of the entry—
- (a) the acknowledgment is not necessarily invalid merely because of the omission; but
  - (b) if an issue arises in a proceeding about the validity of the acknowledgment—the court has a discretion to decide if the acknowledgment is invalid on the ground that the exercise of the power was of such significance in the particular circumstances as to have warranted its inclusion in the acknowledgment.
- (6) If—
- (a) an issue arises in a proceeding about whether the occupier consented to the entry; and
  - (b) an acknowledgement complying with subsection (2) for the entry is not produced in evidence, the onus of proof is on the person relying on the lawfulness of the entry to prove the occupier consented.

505—Procedure for entry with consent

- (1) This section applies if an authorised officer is intending to ask the occupier for consent to enter a place under this Division (otherwise than under section 502).
- (2) Before asking for consent, the authorised officer must identify himself or herself to a person who is an occupier of the place and is present by producing—
  - (a) for an authorised officer who is a police officer—an identity card or other document evidencing the officer's appointment as a police officer; or
  - (b) for an authorised officer who is not a police officer—the identity card issued to the officer under this Law or another document evidencing the officer's appointment as an authorised officer.
- (3) Subsection (2)(a) does not apply to a police officer in uniform.

Division 5—Entry under warrant

506—Application for warrant

- (1) An authorised officer may apply to an authorised warrant official for a warrant for a place.
- (2) The authorised officer must prepare a written application stating the grounds on which the warrant is sought.
- (3) The written application must be sworn.

- (4) The authorised warrant official may refuse to consider the application until the authorised officer gives the official all the information the official requires about the application in the way the official requires.

Example—

The authorised warrant official may require additional information supporting the written application to be given by statutory declaration.

507—Issue of warrant

- (1) The authorised warrant official may issue the warrant for the place only if the official is satisfied there are reasonable grounds for suspecting there is at the place, or will be at the place within the next 72 hours, a particular thing or activity that may provide evidence of an offence against this Law.
- (2) The warrant must state the following:
- (a) the place to which the warrant applies;
  - (b) that a stated authorised officer or any authorised officer may, with necessary and reasonable help and force—
    - (i) enter the place and any other place necessary for entry to the place; and
    - (ii) exercise the authorised officer's powers;
  - (c) particulars of the offence that the authorised warrant official considers appropriate in the circumstances;
  - (d) the name of the person suspected of having committed the offence unless the name is unknown or the authorised warrant official considers it inappropriate to state the name;
  - (e) the evidence that may be seized under the warrant;
  - (f) the hours of the day or night when the place may be entered;
  - (g) the authorised warrant official's name;
  - (h) the date and time of the warrant's issue;
  - (i) the day, within 14 days after the warrant's issue, the warrant ends.

508—Application by electronic communication and duplicate warrant

- (1) An application under section 506 may be made by radio, telephone, fax, email, video conferencing or another form of electronic communication if the authorised officer reasonably believes it necessary because of—
- (a) urgent circumstances; or
  - (b) other special circumstances, including, for example, the officer's remote location.
- (2) The application—
- (a) may not be made before the authorised officer prepares the written application under section 506(2); but
  - (b) may be made before the written application is sworn.

- (3) The authorised warrant official may issue the warrant (the original warrant) only if the official is satisfied—
- (a) it was necessary to make the application under subsection (1); and
  - (b) the way the application was made under subsection (1) was appropriate.
- (4) After the authorised warrant official issues the original warrant—
- (a) if there is a reasonably practicable way of immediately giving a copy of the warrant to the authorised officer, for example, by sending a copy by fax or email, the official must immediately give a copy of the warrant to the officer; or
  - (b) otherwise—
    - (i) the official must tell the authorised officer the information mentioned in section 507(2); and
    - (ii) the authorised officer must complete a form of warrant, including by writing on it the information mentioned in section 507(2) provided by the official.
- (5) The copy of the warrant mentioned in subsection (4)(a), or the form of warrant completed under subsection (4)(b) (in either case the duplicate warrant), is a duplicate of, and as effectual as, the original warrant.
- (6) The authorised officer must, at the first reasonable opportunity, send to the authorised warrant official—
- (a) the written application complying with section 506(2) and (3); and
  - (b) if the officer completed a form of warrant under subsection (4)(b)—the completed form of warrant.
- (7) The authorised warrant official must keep the original warrant and, on receiving the documents under subsection (6)—
- (a) attach the documents to the original warrant; and
  - (b) file the original warrant and documents in the relevant court.
- (8) Despite subsection (5), if—
- (a) an issue arises in a proceeding about whether an exercise of a power was authorised by a warrant issued under this section; and
  - (b) the original warrant is not produced in evidence,
- the onus of proof is on the person relying on the lawfulness of the exercise of the power to prove a warrant authorised the exercise of the power.
- (9) This section does not limit section 506.

509—Defect in relation to a warrant

- (1) A warrant is not invalidated by a defect in—
- (a) the warrant; or
  - (b) compliance with this Division,

unless the defect affects the substance of the warrant in a material particular.

(2) In this section—

warrant includes a duplicate warrant mentioned in section 508(5).

510—Procedure for entry under warrant

(1) This section applies if an authorised officer is intending to enter a place under a warrant issued under this Division.

(2) Before entering the place, the authorised officer must do or make a reasonable attempt to do the following things:

(a) identify himself or herself to a person who is an occupier of the place and is present by producing—

(i) for an authorised officer who is a police officer—an identity card or other document evidencing the officer's appointment as a police officer; or

(ii) for an authorised officer who is not a police officer—the identity card issued to the officer under this Law or another document evidencing the officer's appointment as an authorised officer;

(b) give the person a copy of the warrant;

(c) tell the person the officer is permitted by the warrant to enter the place;

(d) give the person an opportunity to allow the officer immediate entry to the place without using force.

(3) However, the authorised officer need not comply with subsection (2) if the officer reasonably believes that entry to the place is required to ensure the execution of the warrant is not frustrated.

(4) Subsection (2)(a)(i) does not apply to a police officer in uniform.

(5) In this section—

warrant includes a duplicate warrant mentioned in section 508(5).

- (2) The direction may be given orally or in any other way, including, for example, by way of a sign or electronic or other signal.
- (3) The direction may require the heavy vehicle to be—
  - (a) stopped immediately; or
  - (b) stopped at a place indicated by the authorised officer as the nearest place for it to be safely stopped.

Maximum penalty: $6 000.
- (5) When the heavy vehicle stops, the authorised officer must as soon as practicable produce for the inspection of the vehicle's driver—
  - (a) for an authorised officer who is a police officer—an identity card or other document evidencing the officer's appointment as a police officer; or
  - (b) for an authorised officer who is not a police officer—the identity card issued to the officer under this Law or another document evidencing the officer's appointment as an authorised officer.
- (6) Subsection (5)(a) does not apply to a police officer in uniform.

  - (b) intends to exercise a power under this Law in relation to the heavy vehicle; and
  - (c) reasonably believes it is necessary to move the heavy vehicle to enable the exercise of the power.
- (2) To the extent reasonably necessary to enable the exercise of the power, the authorised officer—

- (4) If the authorised officer takes a document from the heavy vehicle to copy it, the document must be copied and returned to the vehicle as soon as practicable.
  - (5) If the authorised officer takes from the heavy vehicle a thing containing an electronic document to produce an image or writing from the document, the image or writing must be produced, and the thing must be returned to the vehicle, as soon as practicable.
  - (6) This section does not authorise an authorised officer to exercise a power under this section in relation to an incident that involves the death of, or injury to, a person unless the authorised officer is a police officer.
  - (7) The power to search under this section does not include a power to search a person.

522—Power to order presentation of heavy vehicles for inspection

- (1) An authorised officer may, by notice under subsection (2), require to be produced for inspection at a place and time stated in the notice, a heavy vehicle—

    - (ii) the vehicle does not comply with this Law; or
    - (iii) the vehicle is a defective heavy vehicle as defined in section 525; or

    - (i) consider the request; and
    - (ii) vary the notice by changing the place or time; and

- (iii) notify the person of the change; and
  - (c) the authorised officer may refuse the request if the officer considers—

- (2) The authorised officer must, as soon as practicable after the thing or sample is seized, give the relevant person for the thing or sample a receipt that generally describes the thing or sample and its condition.
- (3) However, for a thing seized other than under section 549, if a relevant person for the thing is not present when the thing is seized, the receipt may be given by leaving it in a conspicuous position and in a reasonably secure way at the place at which the thing was seized.

  - (c) the thing or sample is not subject to a dispute as to ownership, which would be appropriately resolved by making an application under subsection (3) for the return of the thing or sample, the authorised officer must take reasonable steps to return the thing or sample to the person from whom it was seized or to the owner if that person is not entitled to possess it.

  - (b) without limiting paragraph (a)—
    - (i) provide for the notification of the Regulator or an authorised officer (or both) of the making of the application if it is made by a person who is not an authorised officer; and

- (ii) specify the information that is to be included in the notification.
- (6) Nothing in this section affects a lien or other security over a thing.

- (4) An authorised officer may apply to a relevant tribunal or court within 3 months after the embargo notice is issued for an extension of the time by which the notice must be withdrawn under this section.
- (5) The relevant tribunal or court may order the extension if it is satisfied the continued operation of the embargo notice is necessary for investigation purposes.

- (5) It is not a reasonable excuse for a person to fail to comply with a requirement made under subsection (1) that complying with the requirement might tend to incriminate the person or make the person liable to a penalty.
- (6) In this section—
- information includes electronically stored information;
- personal details, about a responsible person, means—
- (a) the person's name; or

(b) the person's residential address or business address;

- (1) This Division applies to an authorised officer who is a police officer only if the police officer has the relevant police commissioner's written authority to issue improvement notices under this Division.
- (2) This Division applies to an authorised officer who is not a police officer only if the officer's instrument of appointment provides that the authorised officer may issue improvement notices under this Division.

572—Improvement notices

- (1) This section applies if an authorised officer reasonably believes a person has contravened or is contravening a provision of this Law in circumstances that make it likely that the contravention will continue or be repeated.
- (2) The authorised officer may give the person a notice (an improvement notice) requiring the person to take action within a stated period to stop the contravention from continuing or occurring again or to remedy the matters or activities occasioning the contravention.
- (3) The period stated in the improvement notice within which the person is required to comply with the notice must be at least 7 days after the notice is given unless the authorised officer is satisfied it is reasonable to require the person to comply with the notice in a shorter period because—
  - (a) it is reasonably practicable for the person to comply with the notice within the shorter period; and
  - (b) requiring the person to comply with the notice within the shorter period is not likely to involve—
    - (i) a higher cost to the person to comply with the notice; or
    - (ii) a more adverse effect on the person's business operations.

- (4) The improvement notice must be in the approved form and state the following:
- (a) that the authorised officer reasonably believes the person has contravened or is contravening a provision of this Law in circumstances that make it likely that the contravention will continue or be repeated;
  - (b) the reasons for that belief;

- (1) A person given an improvement notice must comply with the notice, unless the person has a reasonable excuse.
Maximum penalty: $10 000.
- (2) In a proceeding for an offence against subsection (1), it is a defence for the person charged to prove that the alleged contravention, or the matters or activities occasioning the alleged contravention, were remedied within the period stated in the improvement notice, though in a way different to that stated in the notice.
- (3) A person who is given an improvement notice in relation to a contravention of a provision of this Law cannot be proceeded against for an offence constituted by the contravention unless—
- (a) the person fails to comply with the improvement notice and does not have a reasonable excuse for the noncompliance; or
  - (b) the improvement notice is revoked under section 575.

574—Amendment of improvement notice

- (1) An improvement notice given by an authorised officer who is a police officer may be amended by any authorised officer who is a police officer and who has the relevant police commissioner's written authority to issue improvement notices under this Division.
- (2) An improvement notice given by an authorised officer who is not a police officer may be amended by any authorised officer who is not a police officer.
- (3) An amendment of an improvement notice given to a person is ineffective to the extent it purports to deal with a contravention of a different provision of this Law to that dealt with in the improvement notice when first given.
- (4) If an authorised officer decides to amend an improvement notice given to a person, the officer must give the person notice of the amendment stating the following:
- (a) the amendment;

- (b) the reasons for the amendment;
- (c) the review and appeal information for the decision to amend the improvement notice.

Note—

Section 23 of Schedule 1 allows for the amendment of an improvement notice.

    - (ii) has the relevant police commissioner's written authority to issue improvement notices under this Division; and
    - (iii) is more senior in rank to the police officer who gave the notice to the person.
- (2) An improvement notice given to a person by an authorised officer who is not a police officer may be revoked by the Regulator by giving notice of the revocation to the person.
- (3) Section 23 of Schedule 1 does not apply in relation to the revocation of the improvement notice.

576—Clearance certificate

- (1) An approved authorised officer may issue a certificate (a clearance certificate) stating that all or stated requirements of an improvement notice have been complied with.
- (2) If a person to whom an improvement notice is given receives a clearance certificate about the improvement notice, each requirement of the improvement notice that the certificate states has been complied with stops being operative.
- (3) In this section—

approved authorised officer means—

  - (a) for an improvement notice given by an authorised officer who is a police officer—any authorised officer who is a police officer and who has the relevant police commissioner's written authority to issue improvement notices under this Division; or

- (2) An authorised officer who is exercising a power under this Chapter in relation to a heavy vehicle on a road may require the vehicle's driver to give the officer reasonable help to exercise the power.

- (a) produce a document or give information to the authorised officer; or

Example—

- (b) help the authorised officer to find and gain access to a document or information, including electronically stored information; or

Examples of documents or information—

Maximum penalty: $10 000.

- (5) Without limiting what may be a reasonable excuse for the purposes of subsection (4), it is a reasonable excuse for a person not to comply with a requirement made under subsection (1) or (2) if doing so would require the person to take action that is outside the scope of the business or other activities of the person.

- (6) It is not a reasonable excuse for a person to fail to comply with a requirement made under subsection (1) or (2), in relation to a document or information that is the subject of the requirement, if doing so might tend to incriminate the person or make the person liable to a penalty.
- (7) If a requirement made under subsection (1) or (2) is that the occupier of, or person at, a place start or stop the engine of a heavy vehicle—
  - (a) it is immaterial that the occupier or person is not—
    - (i) the operator of the vehicle; or
    - (ii) authorised by the operator to drive the vehicle or start or stop its engine; or
    - (iii) qualified to drive the vehicle or start or stop its engine; and
  - (b) in starting or stopping the engine of the vehicle in compliance with the requirement, the occupier or person is exempt from a provision of an Australian road law to the extent the provision would require the occupier or person to be qualified to start or stop the engine.

- (6) If the authorised officer believes the damage was caused by a latent defect in the thing or circumstances beyond the control of the officer or the assistant the officer may state the belief in the notice.
- (7) The authorised officer may delay complying with subsection (3) or (4) if the officer reasonably suspects complying with the subsection may frustrate or otherwise hinder an investigation by the officer under this Law.
- (8) The delay may be only for so long as the authorised officer continues to have the reasonable suspicion and remains in the vicinity of the place.

Division 2—Compensation

581—Compensation because of exercise of powers

- (1) A person may claim compensation from the Regulator if the person incurs costs, damage or loss because of the exercise, or purported exercise, of a power by or for an authorised officer, including costs, damage or loss incurred because of compliance with a requirement made of the person under this Chapter.

- (3) The compensation may be claimed and ordered in a proceeding—
  - (a) brought in a court with jurisdiction for the recovery of the amount of compensation claimed; or
  - (b) for an offence against this Law in relation to which the power was exercised or purportedly exercised.
- (4) A court may order the payment of compensation only if it is satisfied it is just to make the order in the circumstances of the particular case.
- (5) In considering whether it is just to order compensation, the court must have regard to any relevant offence committed by the claimant.
- (6) The national regulations may prescribe other matters that may, or must, be taken into account by the court when considering whether it is just to order compensation.

- (3) This Part does not limit the powers or discretion of the court under another law.

594—Matters court must consider when imposing sanction for noncompliance with mass, dimension or loading requirement

- (1) The purpose of this section is to bring to a court's attention the implications and consequences of a contravention of a mass, dimension or loading requirement when deciding the kind and level of sanction to be imposed for the contravention.

- (2) In deciding the sanction, including the level of a fine, to be imposed for the contravention, the court must consider the following matters:
- (a) a minor risk breach of a mass, dimension or loading requirement involves either or both of the following:
    - (i) an appreciable risk of accelerated road wear;
    - (ii) an appreciable risk of unfair commercial advantage;

- (4) Nothing in this section authorises or requires the court to assign the contravention to a different risk category.
- (5) Nothing in this section requires evidence to be adduced about a matter mentioned in subsection (2).

595—Court may treat noncompliance with mass, dimension or loading requirement as a different risk category

- (1) If a court is satisfied there has been a contravention of a mass, dimension or loading requirement but is not satisfied the contravention is a substantial risk breach or a severe risk breach, the court may treat the contravention as a minor risk breach.
- (2) If a court is satisfied there has been a contravention of a mass, dimension or loading requirement and that the contravention is at least a substantial risk breach but is not satisfied the contravention is a severe risk breach, the court may treat the contravention as a substantial risk breach.

597—Commercial benefits penalty order

- (1) If a court convicts a person of an offence against this Law, the court may, on application by the prosecutor, make an order (a commercial benefits penalty order) requiring the person to pay, as a fine, an amount not exceeding 3 times the amount estimated by the court to be the gross commercial benefit—
  - (a) received or receivable, by the person or by an associate of the person, from the commission of the offence; and
  - (b) for a journey that was interrupted or not commenced because of action taken by an authorised officer in connection with the commission of the offence—that would have been received or receivable, by the person or by an associate of the person, from the commission of the offence had the journey been completed.
- (2) In estimating the gross commercial benefit, the court may take into account—
  - (a) benefits of any kind, whether or not monetary; and
  - (b) any other matters it considers relevant, including, for example—
    - (i) the value of any goods involved in the offence; and
    - (ii) the distance over which the goods were, or were to be, carried.
- (3) However, in estimating the gross commercial benefit, the court must disregard any costs, expenses or liabilities incurred by the person or by an associate of the person.

- (4) If the court considers that another person who is not present in court may be substantially affected by an order under subsection (2) or (3), the court may issue a summons to that person to show cause why the order should not be made.
- (5) The court is to ensure that the Regulator is notified of the decision to make an order under subsection (2) or (3) and the terms of the order, but failure to do so does not invalidate the decision or the order.

Division 5—Supervisory intervention orders

599—Application of Division 5

This Division applies if a court—

- (a) convicts a person (the convicted person) of an offence against this Law; and

- (a) the offences against this Law or a previous corresponding law for which the person has previously been convicted; and
- (b) the offences against this Law or a previous corresponding law for which the person has been proceeded against by way of unwithdrawn infringement notices; and

- (2) For the purposes of subsection (1), a court may decide that a failure to comply with a supervisory intervention order is a substantial failure if the failure causes, or creates a risk of, serious harm to public safety, the environment or road infrastructure.

603—Amendment or revocation of supervisory intervention order

A court that makes a supervisory intervention order may, on application by the Regulator or the person to whom the order applies, amend or revoke the order if the court is satisfied there has been a change in circumstances warranting the amendment or revocation.

604—Contravention of supervisory intervention order

A person to whom a supervisory intervention order applies must comply with the order, unless the person has a reasonable excuse.

Maximum penalty: $10 000.

605—Effect of supervisory intervention order if prohibition order applies to same person

- (1) This section applies if both a supervisory intervention order and a prohibition order is in force at the same time against the same person.
- (2) The supervisory intervention order has no effect while the prohibition order has effect.

Division 6—Prohibition orders*606—Application of Division 6

This Division applies if a court—

- (a) convicts a person (the convicted person) of an offence against this Law; and
- (b) considers the person to be, or likely to become, a systematic or persistent offender of this Law having regard to the circumstances of offences against this Law and previous corresponding laws for which the person has previously been convicted.

607—Court may make prohibition order

- (1) The court may, on application by the prosecutor or the Regulator, make an order (a prohibition order) prohibiting the convicted person, for a stated period of not more than 1 year, from having a stated role or responsibility associated with road transport.
- (2) However, the court cannot make a prohibition order prohibiting the convicted person from driving a vehicle or having a vehicle registered or licensed under an Australian road law in the convicted person's name.

608—Limitation on making prohibition order

The court may make a prohibition order only if the court is satisfied the convicted person should not continue to have the role or responsibilities prohibited by the order, and that a supervisory intervention order is not appropriate, having regard to—

- (a) the offences against this Law or a previous corresponding law for which the person has previously been convicted; and
- (b) the offences against this Law or a previous corresponding law for which the person has been proceeded against by way of unwithdrawn infringement notices; and

A court that makes a prohibition order may, on application by the Regulator or the person to whom the order applies, amend or revoke the order if the court is satisfied there has been a change in circumstances warranting the amendment or revocation.

610—Contravention of prohibition order

A person to whom a prohibition order applies must comply with the order, unless the person has a reasonable excuse.

Maximum penalty: $10 000.

Division 7—Compensation orders

611—Court may make compensation order

- (1) A court that convicts a person (the convicted person) of an offence against this Law may make an order (a compensation order) requiring the convicted person to pay the road manager for a road, by way of compensation, an amount the court considers appropriate for loss incurred, or likely to be incurred, by the road manager for damage caused to road infrastructure as a result of the offence.
- (2) A compensation order may be made on the application of the prosecutor, the Regulator or the road manager.
- (3) The court may make a compensation order in relation to damage the court considers, on the balance of probabilities, was caused or partly caused by the commission of the offence.
- (4) The court may make a compensation order—
  - (a) when the court gives its sentence for the offence; or
  - (b) at a later time, but not after the end of the period within which a proceeding for the offence must start under this Law.

Note—

See section 707 for the period within which a proceeding for an offence against this Law must start.

612—Assessment of compensation

- (1) In making a compensation order, the court may assess the amount of compensation required to be paid by the order in the way it considers appropriate, including, for example, by reference to the estimated cost of remedying the damage.
- (2) In assessing the amount of compensation, the court may have regard to—
  - (a) evidence adduced in connection with the prosecution of the offence; and
  - (b) any evidence not adduced in connection with the prosecution of the offence but adduced in connection with the making of the order; and
  - (c) if the road manager is a public authority—

- (i) any certificate of the public authority stating that the authority is responsible for maintaining the road infrastructure in relation to which the order is sought; and
  - (ii) any other certificate of the public authority, including, for example, a certificate—
    - (A) estimating the monetary value of all or part of the road infrastructure in relation to which the order is sought; or
    - (B) estimating the monetary value of, or the cost of remedying, the damage to the road infrastructure in relation to which the order is sought; or
    - (C) estimating the extent to which the commission of the offence contributed to the damage to the road infrastructure in relation to which the order is sought; and
  - (d) any other matters the court considers relevant.
- (3) A person who purportedly signs a certificate of a type mentioned in subsection (2)(c) on behalf of a public authority is presumed, unless the contrary is proved, to have been authorised by the public authority to sign the certificate on the public authority's behalf.

613—Use of certificates in assessing compensation

- (1) If a public authority proposes to submit a certificate mentioned in section 612(2)(c) in a proceeding for the making of a compensation order, the public authority must give a copy of the certificate to the defendant at least 28 days before the day fixed for the hearing of the proceeding.
- (2) A certificate of the public authority cannot be used in a proceeding for the making of a compensation order unless the public authority has complied with subsection (1).
- (3) A defendant who intends to challenge a matter stated in a certificate mentioned in section 612(2)(c) in a proceeding for the making of a compensation order must—
  - (a) give the public authority notice of the intention to challenge the matter; and
  - (b) if the defendant is intending to challenge the accuracy of any measurement, analysis or reading in the certificate—
    - (i) state the reason why the defendant alleges that it is inaccurate; and
    - (ii) state the measurement, analysis or reading that the defendant considers to be correct.
- (4) The notice must be—
  - (a) signed by the defendant; and
  - (b) given at least 14 days before the day fixed for the hearing of the proceeding.
- (5) A defendant cannot challenge a matter stated in a certificate mentioned in section 612(2)(c) in a proceeding for the making of a compensation order unless—
  - (a) the defendant has complied with subsections (3) and (4); or
  - (b) the court gives leave to the defendant to challenge the matter, in the interests of justice.

614—Limits on amount of compensation

- (1) If, in making a compensation order, the court is satisfied that the commission of the offence concerned contributed to damage to road infrastructure but that other factors not connected with the commission of the offence also contributed to the damage, the court must limit the amount of compensation payable under the order to the amount it assesses as being attributable to the defendant's conduct.
- (2) The amount of compensation payable under a compensation order cannot exceed the monetary jurisdictional limit of the court in civil proceedings.
- (3) The court may not include in a compensation order any amount for—
  - (a) personal injury or death; or
  - (b) loss of income (whether suffered by the road manager or another entity); or
  - (c) damage to property that is not part of the road infrastructure concerned.

615—Costs

The court has the same power to award costs in relation to proceedings for the making of a compensation order as it has in relation to civil proceedings, and the relevant laws applying to costs in relation to civil proceedings before the court apply with any necessary changes to costs in relation to proceedings for the making of a compensation order.

616—Enforcement of compensation order and costs

A compensation order, and any award of costs in relation to a proceeding for the making of a compensation order, are taken to be, and are enforceable as, a judgment of the court sitting in civil proceedings.

617—Relationship with orders or awards of other courts and tribunals

- (1) A compensation order may not be made in favour of a road manager for a road in relation to damage to road infrastructure if another court or tribunal has awarded compensatory damages or compensation in civil proceedings to the road manager in relation to the damage based on the same or similar facts.
- (2) If a court purports to make a compensation order contrary to subsection (1)—
  - (a) the order is void to the extent it covers the same matters as the matters covered by the other award; and
  - (b) any payments made under the order to the extent to which it is void must be repaid by the road manager.
- (3) The making of a compensation order in relation to damage to road infrastructure does not prevent another court or tribunal from later awarding damages or compensation in civil proceedings in relation to the damage based on the same or similar facts, but the court or tribunal must take the compensation order into account when making its award.
- (4) Nothing in this Division affects or limits any liability to pay compensation under another law, other than as provided by this section.

Part 4—Provisions about liability

Division 1—Reasonable steps defence

618—Reasonable steps defence

If, in relation to a provision of this Law, a person has the benefit of the reasonable steps defence, it is a defence to a charge for an offence against the provision for the person charged to prove that—

- (b) either—
  - (i) the person took all reasonable steps to prevent the contravention; or
  - (ii) there were no steps the person could reasonably be expected to have taken to prevent the contravention.

Note—

Generally speaking, under various provisions of this Law, a person charged with an offence does not have the benefit of the mistake of fact defence if the person has the benefit of the reasonable steps defence for the offence. The reasonable steps defence is not provided in the case of certain offences that include the taking of reasonable steps as an ingredient of the offence.

Division 2—Matters relating to reasonable steps

619—Application of Division 2

This Division applies in relation to the following:

- (a) a proceeding for an offence against a provision of this Law that may be committed by a person failing to take all reasonable steps;

620—Matters court may consider for deciding whether person took all reasonable steps—mass, dimension or loading offences

- (1) In deciding whether things done or omitted to be done by a person charged with a mass, dimension or loading offence constitute reasonable steps, the court may have regard to the following:

  - (b) without limiting paragraph (a), the measures available and measures taken for any or all of the following:
    - (i) to accurately and safely weigh or measure the heavy vehicle or its load, or to safely restrain the load in the heavy vehicle;
    - (ii) to provide and obtain sufficient and reliable evidence from which the weight or measurement of the heavy vehicle or its load might be calculated;

- (iii) to manage, reduce or eliminate a potential contravention arising from the location of the heavy vehicle, or from the location of the load in the heavy vehicle, or from the location of goods in the load;
  - (iv) to manage, reduce or eliminate a potential contravention arising from weather and climatic conditions, or from potential weather and climatic conditions, affecting or potentially affecting the weight or measurement of the load;

- (2) To the extent the weight of a freight container together with its contents is relevant to the offence, the person charged cannot rely on the weight stated in the relevant container weight declaration if the person knew or ought reasonably to have known that—
- (a) the weight stated in the relevant container weight declaration was less than the actual weight; or
  - (b) the distributed weight of the container and its contents, together with either of the following would cause a contravention of a mass requirement applying to the heavy vehicle:

- (i) the mass or location of any other load;
  - (ii) the mass of the vehicle or a component of it.

622—Matters court may consider for deciding whether person took all reasonable steps—speeding or fatigue management offences

    - (iii) to maintain equipment and work systems to enable compliance with this Law;
    - (iv) to address and remedy similar compliance problems that may have happened in the past.

- (2) In addition, in deciding whether things done or omitted to be done by a person charged with a fatigue management offence constitute reasonable steps, the court may have regard to any relevant body of fatigue knowledge.
- (3) This section does not limit the matters the court must or may consider when deciding whether things done or omitted to be done by a person charged with a speeding offence or fatigue management offence constitute reasonable steps.

- (a) identified and assessed the aspects of the activities of the party, and relevant drivers for the party, that may lead to a relevant contravention by a relevant driver for the party;
  - (b) for each aspect identified and assessed under paragraph (a), identified and assessed—
    - (i) the risk of the aspect leading to a relevant contravention; and

  - (c) carried out the identification and assessment mentioned in paragraphs (a) and (b)—
